

Business System Solutions

Do you have a business problem you think may have a technology solution, but don't know where to begin? Have you grown so fast that it's difficult to manage and support all your employees? Are you having problems keeping your IT projects on schedule and on budget? This is where Cynthia Farren Consulting can help. We are the business solution experts, with years of experience and success helping companies resolve their problems with just the right technology solutions and support.